

Household Goods Workshop

Naval Supply Systems Command has just announced that the 8th annual Household Goods Workshop will be held in Norfolk, VA, 6-8 February 2001. It will be held in conjunction with Naval Transportation Support Center Symposium at the Norfolk Waterside Marriott. Our HHG Workshop is open to all Navy HHG shipping offices as well as the other services.

The workshop has over 40 briefings ... Information affecting the movement, storage, and entitlement issues directly relating to the operation and customer service we provide to our customers every day. Speakers will include representatives from NAVJAG, BUPERS, DFAS, Per Diem Travel Transportation Allowance Committee, MTMC,

We will have group discussions of current issues and problems facing our personal property offices and we will brainstorm solutions and ideas that will affect our ability to provide the highest levels of customer service. There are major changes affecting our business ... A-76, e-Commerce, PTOPS, Full Service Moving Project, Smart Web Move ... Information on these topics will help your office.

The success of our workshops is attributed to the drive and dedication of the people in our field offices who understand the needs of our customers and share those ideas. The range of shared ideas, solutions and knowledge places our Navy personal property offices out in front when it comes to customer service.

Our workshops serve as a valuable training tool for our Navy personal property offices ... So, please make every effort to have someone from your office attend this year's workshop.

The Naval message is attached below.
